Schools Sponsored by the Ohio
Council of Community Schools
Begin Classes This Week

Reporters are encouraged to contact a school in their local area to include in “Back to School” news coverage

TOLEDO – As the schools sponsored by the Ohio Council of Community Schools open for classes again, they welcome news reporters to include them in stories marking the start of another great school year, highlighting the many successes and personal stories of triumph the schools are fostering.

Ohio’s community schools are found statewide, and a complete list of the OCCS schools are included here, including school leader names, addresses, and telephone numbers. Reporters, cameramen, editors, and assignment editors are welcome to call a school near them to make arrangements for visiting the schools.

Should you have any questions, call us at OCCS and we will do our best to help.

- For help making visit arrangements with schools, contact the school directly, or please call:

Apryl Morin at 419-720-5200, or email her at: apryl@ohioschools.org.
